Blind Spots: Feminism, Nationalism, and Revolution in the Arab World

Rima Abunasser, Ph.D.

Dr. Abunasser specializes in 18th-Century British literature, postcolonial theory, and the intersections of ethnicity, race, and gender in the Arab World. She is the Arabic language editor and translator for Jeff & Ann Vandermeer's upcoming collection of international experimental fiction and is author of the blog "Rima the Arab Girl." Dr. Abunasser has taught at universities in Texas and South Carolina and is now a member of the faculty at TCU in Fort Worth, Texas. When not lecturing, translating, or writing, she can be found re-tweeting the Arab revolutions under the handle @rabunasser.
