ART BUILDING
The Art building is CVAD’s main facility. Opened in 1971, it houses the majority of the college’s galleries, computer labs and faculty/staff offices. Classes currently taught in this building include:
- Studio Arts—Drawing & Painting, Jewelry/Metalsmithing, New Media Art, Sculpture and Watercolor
- Design—Core Design, Interior Design & Communication Design
- Art Education & Art History
- IADS

- First Floor: Dean’s office, Student Advising Center, UNT Art Gallery, North Gallery, Lightwell Gallery, Jewelry/Metalsmithing and Sculpture.
- Second Floor: Art Education and Art History offices, Design offices, computer labs and the Visual Resources Center as well as Design & Art History classrooms.
- Third Floor: Studio Arts offices, classrooms for Art Education, Drawing and Painting, Watercolor and Core Design.

SCOULAR HALL
Scoular was built in 1947 as classrooms for Home Economics and named after Dr. Florence Scoular, first dean of the School of Home Economics. CVAD now occupies all of Scoular Hall, which has been extensively remodeled for studio and design purposes. The building houses CVAD facilities for the Texas Fashion Collection, Fashion Design, Textile Design and Weaving. Classes taught in this building include:
- Fashion Design
- Weaving
- Textile Design

- First Floor: The Texas Fashion Collection, faculty offices for Fashion Design, Fashion Design classrooms and Weaving studios.
- Second Floor: Classrooms for Weaving, Textile Design and Fashion Design.

HICKORY HALL
CVAD occupies most of the first floor and half of the second floor of Hickory Hall. Hickory Hall was built in 1960 and originally designed as an Industrial Technology facility, making it a good fit for art and design classes. Classes taught in this building include:
- Core Drawing
- Printmaking
- Watercolor
- Graduate Metals & Sculpture

- First Floor: Faculty offices for Printmaking and Core Drawing. Printmaking and Watercolor classes along with graduate studios for Sculpture and Jewelry/Metals.
- Second Floor: Core Drawing classrooms, spray booth and offices for Core Drawing faculty.

OAK STREET HALL
CVAD occupies all of Oak Street Hall as well as its two annex buildings. Opened in the 1940s as a dormitory, the facility now hosts classrooms and labs for Ceramics and Photography, graduate studios, a gallery and a critique room. The annex buildings hold Photography offices and classrooms as well as PRINT, the Print Research Institute of North Texas. Classes taught in this building include:
- Photography
- Ceramics
- Graduate Drawing and Painting

- First Floor: Cora Stafford Gallery, faculty offices, graduate studios and Ceramics classrooms.
- Second Floor: Critique room, graduate studios, Photography classrooms and labs.
- Annex: Photography offices, lecture rooms and PRINT.

EAGLE STUDENT SERVICES CENTER
CVAD teaches large lecture classes in Room 255 of the ESSC. The Student Union Building, adjacent to the ESSC, houses a Student Gallery run by the Student Union and is used extensively to show the work of CVAD students. Classes taught in ESSC 255 include:
- Art History Surveys
- Art Appreciation
- Core Drawing

BAIN HALL
Bain Hall was built in 1951 and named after Dr. Wilfred Bain, first dean of the College of Music. CVAD shares the building with the College of Music and occupies the majority of the first floor. Music students use second floor practice rooms with CVAD graduate studios, CVAD faculty offices and Weaving classes on the first floor.

MARQUIS HALL
Marquis Hall was opened in 1936 and is named after Dr. Richard Marquis, President of UNT from 1923-34. CVAD hosts the North Texas Institute for Educators on the Visual Arts (NTIEVA) in facilities on the third floor of Marquis Hall. Marquis Hall also holds a number of University offices and institutes.